area30 countdown started: Exhibitor list now online

Order trade fair for the kitchen industry in 2019 – once again shaped by growth in space and exhibitor numbers

The area30 trade fair and the cube30 showroom centre – together with the A30 “Küchenmeile” – will once again be the focus of attention for all decision-makers from the kitchen industry in Europe in September 2019. Preparatory work in the East Westphalian town of Löhne is now in full swing, and the current list of exhibitors and brands for area30 and cube30 is now available online for 2019. The order trade fair is once again seeing significant growth. So it will once again be excitement guaranteed for visitors and exhibitors between 14th and 19th September.

area30 and cube30 – as the central order platform for kitchen studios, the specialist kitchen trade, trade association groups, large-scale operators, project designers and architects – anticipate well over 130 exhibitors and brands. Following a repeat increase in demand for space last year, especially within the key product group of kitchen furniture, the usable exhibition space for area30 will increase to 10,600 m² this autumn. cube30 has also been completely booked up with its available 700 m². On balance, there is now 11,300 m² of exhibition space available for ordering, networking and presenting anything and everything for the kitchen.

Area30 and cube30 are well-equipped to accommodate innovative market leaders and major brands, as well as smart start-ups and intelligent newcomers. One thing is clear: The entire range of services – from online check-in to sophisticated catering, competent hostesses and shuttle services – has been improved or expanded even further. The list of exhibitors and brands (updated daily) is now available online, a key component for ensuring qualified and timely trade fair preparation.

As in previous years, trade visitors will meet kitchen furniture manufacturers such as Bax, Beckermann, Neue Alno, Pino, Stengel and Walden. Companies like Amica, Berbel, Bora, Dornbracht, Elica, Falmecc, Gorenje, Grohe, Gutmann,
